AYER'S PILLS.

A large proportion of the diseases which cause human suffering result from derangement of the stomach, bowels, and liver. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS act directly upon these organs, and are especially designed to cure the diseases caused by their derangement, including Constipation, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Headache, Dysentery, and a host of other ailments, for all of which they are a safe, sure, prompt, and pleasant remedy. The extensive use of these PILLS by eminent physicians in regular practice, shows unmistakably the estimation in which they are held by the medical profession.

These PILLS are compounded of vegetable substances only, and are absolutely free from calomel or any other injurious ingredient.

A Sufferer from Headache writes:

"AYER'S PILLS are invaluable to me, and are my constant companion. I have been a severe sufferer from Headache, and your PILLS are the only thing I could look to for relief. One dose will quickly move my bowels and free my head from pain. They are the most effective and the easiest physic I have ever found. It is a pleasure to me to speak in their praise, and I always do so when occasion offers."

W. L. PAGE, of W. L. Page & Bro., Franklin St., Richmond, Va., June 3, 1882.

"I have used AYER'S PILLS in numberless instances as recommended by you, and have never known them to fail to accomplish the desired result. We constantly keep them on hand at our home, and prize them as a pleasant, safe, and reliable family medicine. FOR DYSPEPSIA they are invaluable." J. T. HAYES.

Mexia, Texas, June 17, 1882.

The REV. FRANCIS B. HARLOWE, writing from Atlanta, Ga., says: "For some years past I have been subject to constipation, from which, in spite of the use of medicines of various kinds, I suffered increasing inconvenience, until some months ago I began taking AYER'S PILLS. They have entirely corrected the costive habit, and have vastly improved my general health."

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS correct irregularities of the bowels, stimulate the appetite and digestion, and by their prompt and thorough action give tone and vigor to the whole physical economy.

Oil "Mysteries."

A correspondent of the Philadelphia Times, writing from the oil regions on the fabulous fortunes made and lost in the petroleum speculation, says: The country has again gone mad with oil on the brain. But the great bull movement and advancing prices last week received a set-back by the striking of a large well in new territory. The new well is located in Forest County and is owned by the Anchor Oil Company. The first reports sent out from it reported it flowing at 1,000 barrels per day. Since then, however, the best reports are the daily production of the well at 300 barrels. It has been the custom for several years back to board up the derricks of "wildcat" test wells in important locations and place an armed guard around them to prevent trespassers from gaining access, in order to keep the result of the wells a secret from the public until the owners have had time to buy or sell adjoining lands and prepare for the effect of the well on the market. Such a well, in oil region parlance, is termed a "mystery," and the frequent occurrence of "mysteries" has resulted in the employment by leading brokers and large producing firms of men thoroughly versed in all matters pertaining to the petroleum industry, who are aptly termed scouts, as it is their duty to learn the condition of such wells by strategy or force. This new well is no exception to the rule. As soon as it began flowing heavily the owners secured the services of fifty Swedes, employed in peeling hemlock tan bark in the vicinity, and set them to felling trees around the well, which is located in the midst of a vast forest. A plot eight hundred feet square, was marked out and the logs and brush cut were piled upon the lines of this square, forming a high palisade around the well, which was located in the center of the square, and then the Swedes were put on guard within the inclosure to prevent any one gaining admittance. The scouts arrived in due time, and began skirmishing around outside the fort, trying to gain an entrance, but while daylight lasted they were unsuccessful. When the friendly shades of night had fallen though, three of the most daring ones silently scaled the wall and cautiously crept through the trees and bushes, inside the inclosure, to the tanks into which the well was flowing, where they remained several hours, listening to the flows, and measuring the contents of the tanks, after which they silently stole away again. While the three were in the tanks, two others drilled a hole in the pipe line laid to convey the oil away from the well, and on which a pump was working, by which means they learned that no oil was passing through the pipe. On Saturday night they again gauged the tanks, twenty-four hours after the first measurement, and as no oil was pumped away, they knew the exact output of the well for that day. If detected at this work, they would have been roughly handled.

Perhaps the most notable of oil "mysteries" was the well on lot 646, Cherry Grove township, in Warren county, which was drilled to the sand last March. The well was a rank "wildcat" of great interest to the trade, and as it was generally understood it would be made a mystery scouts were detailed to watch it some time before it reached the oil-bearing level. None of them succeeded in getting any reliable information from it, though, except one, "Si" Hughes, who had made his way through the picket line and lay under the derrick floor for forty-nine hours without food, in freezing weather, and in a position where he was deluged with water every time the sand pump was used.

The result of the well, which started in May with a production of 1,000 barrels a day, is well known, and Mr. Hughes received from various parties $50,000 for the information he secured such hard hips to gain. He also was given an interest in the oil company, which purchased lands adjacent to the well, from which he realized a handsome sum. This company was the Anchor Oil Company, which owns the new Forest County mystery. The scouts are men chosen on account of their thorough knowledge of the oil business, their activity, their daring and their training to close observation of minute details. They are not only employed to watch "mysteries," but also to compile statistics of the production of the oil fields and report the capacities of new wells which are not guarded, and among them are found most of the oil reporters of the oil region newspapers. Their pay is various. Some of them work for salaries ranging from $100 to $200 per month and expenses, while others work for brokers and receive one-half the profits made on all transactions made on the strength of their information. Some of these have made snug fortunes during the past two months. Taken as a whole they represent some of the best interests in the region.

Sorghum-Sugar.

The manufacture of sugar from sorghum has recently received fresh impetus, owing to the great number of experiments which have been made with a view of discovering some process by which good sugar could be guaranteed. Within the past year there have been at least four scientific gentlemen engaged in perfecting machinery and testing various ways of extracting the juice of the cane in such a manner as to remove all substances which have prevented Northern sorghum-growers from being successful in years past. Two processes have been patented, and it is now asserted that a first-class article of merchantable sugar can be made from sorghum. A practical illustration of the fact will be afforded undoubtedly during the present year, and if the objectionable matter can be separated from the juice while in course of manufacture, the growth of sorghum and the manufacture of sugar will eventually become a great industry.

Upland clay or sandy soil is better adapted to cane culture than loamy or bottom lands. On low lands the cane is more prolific, but the uplands make up in excellence of quality what they lose in quantity. There is nothing difficult in growing cane. Anybody who can successfully grow Indian corn can grow sorghum cane, and with improved methods and machinery the profit on cane growing will be much greater than on corn. The cost of raising an acre of corn is not far from eight dollars, and as a question of fact the fodder for ensilage purposes is more valuable than an equal quantity of corn-fodder.

Small farmers will raise cane and attempt to make their own sugar, but in this they will find no profit. It cannot be long before large central mills are built, where the growers can get their cane ground, and when these mills are once successfully started the advocates of sorghum culture look for great results.—Chicago Tribune.

—Professors Riley has given his collection of 150,000 bugs, including 30,566 species, to the national museum at Washington. Prof. Riley must have undertaken to have a little garden some where some time, to have been able to make such a collection as that.—Courier Journal.

GEN. S. B. BUCKNER, a distinguished Confederate has been recommended by the Hart county Democracy as a candidate for Governor.

The Philadelphia Times refers to Mr. Beck as "the hard-headed Scotchman who knows more about the tariff than any other man in the Senate."

In the Louisville Circuit Court last Saturday, 4th inst., B. F. Garrity, who had previously been convicted of the charge of presenting false claims against the Commonwealth, was sentenced to confinement in the penitentiary for one year.

To Voters.

The attention of voters at the primary election to-morrow is called to the following rules prescribed by the Democratic Executive Committee:

First—None but known and recognized Democrats shall be permitted to vote, and they must be legal voters as prescribed by the general statutes.

Second—Persons of unknown, uncertain or doubtful politics, shall not be allowed to vote, unless upon proof of their democracy.

Third—The officers of the primary election will lay aside all preferences, and see that members of the Democratic party alone vote.

Fourth—The said officers shall proceed at once to count the vote, as soon as the polls are closed, and shall then certify the votes and seal same with the books, and deliver same on Monday, March 12th, or at latest on Tuesday, March, 13, 1883, to W. W. Ball, and the said W. W. Ball, Wm. P. Coons and Perry Jefferson, or a majority of them shall constitute an examining board and shall proceed to count the votes from all the precincts on said Monday or Tuesday, in their discretion, and certify and deliver the entire vote and poll books to G. S. Wall, chairman. The said examining board shall give a certificate of election to the person receiving the highest number of votes, and said person shall be the nominee of the Democratic party of Mason county for the office of Representative in the next Legislature. In case of a tie, the examining board shall decide by lot.

To the People of Kentucky.

That our common school system is not what it should be all are agreed. How to improve it is the problem of the hour. The undersigned take the liberty of suggesting that a conference or convention of the friends of popular education in Kentucky be held at the city of Frankfort on Thursday, April 5th, 1883, at 12 o'clock m., for the purpose of considering the situation and organizing a quicker movement against illiteracy. With a quarter of million of people in the Commonwealth who cannot even read, with the average pay of only $22 per month with the average value of sixty per cent. of our schoolhouse $78, and with not less than one hundred and eighty thousand children who do not attend any school, it is time for us to awaken to the magnitude of the question and to make an effort for a change. Let all whose hearts are warmed with a love of the little ones come to the conference and assist in creating a public sentiment that will secure what we want. We sincerely hope that the people will turn out in force and make a demonstration more imposing than any political convention ever held in the State. If, however, only a limited number attend and nothing more is done than to suggest to the voters to keep this matter in mind when selecting members of the next General Assembly, the gathering will not have been in vain.

The day of meeting has been changed from March 22nd to April 5th at the instance of a number of friends of the cause who thought the former date too early.

A Good Suggestion.

Editor Bulletin: I have long thought it would be pleasant if some means could be devised to bring together the old confederate soldiers in our city and county that they might become better acquainted with each other and preserve the memories of the days past, when they fought for what they deemed a sacred cause. Can not some steps be taken to form an acquaintance to which might be admitted not only soldiers but others who for opinion's sake were shut up in Northern prisons and there suffered for the "lost cause?" I throw out this suggestion hoping others may think of it and that some one may take the lead in such a work.

CONFEDERATE SOLDIER.

At Galt, Ont., John Hoy, an employe of the knife works, Thursday tied a heavy weight about his neck, jumped into a tank containing four feet of water and was drowned. The cause of his suicide is unknown.

James C. Grimes was arrested in Montreal charged with forging the name of Walter Ames, of Meigs, Ohio, in September last, to a note for $300. He denied the charge, but was held for extradition.

A New York judge has decided that the regulation of the "bob-tail car companies, requiring passengers to deposit their fare in a box, is a reasonable one.

The swindle planned by a Cincinnati showman consisted in advertising for a treasurer for a minstrel show, and getting $500 from a candidate as pretended security. A country grocer was caught by the prospect of making a tour of the country on a salary of $25 a week, with all expenses paid, and he supposed that he was safe against fraud because a company was ready to actually start out. But the performers were amateurs, lured into the affair at no cost to the manager, who fled with all the money after the first performance. The grocer committed suicide.

But, my friend, 'twixt you and me,
It would chill a man to see
How she stitched a patch upon her old man's pants."

MR. SAMUEL LYONS, of this county, has sold his farm and removed to Lewis county.

THE Bank of Maysville has declared a semi-annual dividend of four per cent. The stock of this bank is a good kind to keep.

MR. G. W. BENDER, Superintendent of the Kentucky Central Railroad, arrived in Maysville this morning on a hand car. He had been making a tour of inspection.

THE investigation of the affair in Chester, resulted in Hiram Hendrixson being fined $25, and Ed. Bell the same amount and imprisoned for ten days. George Bell was fined $20 and imprisoned for five days. William Ford was discharged at his examining trial.

THE roofs of Owens & Barkley's business house, that of C. S. Miner & Bro., and the Baptist Institute have lately been painted with Armstrong's Elastic Paint, which has lately become very popular in this community on account of its lasting and fireproof qualities.

THE thoroughbred horse Col. Bell, driven by W. Joe Ray, Superintendent of the United States Mail and Baggage car line, took fright at the depot Thursday morning and ran away. As Col. Bell is an unusually well regulated horse he was careful not to do any injury by his little escapade.

ATTENTION is directed to the card of M. F. Marsh, in this issue. He has removed his office from Court street to the Library Building, on Sutton street, in order to comply with the law concerning Justices of the Peace. He will attend promptly to any business connected with his profession or office. His fees for writing deeds, mortgages, etc., are moderate.

MESSRS. W. S. FRANK and L. W. Robertson went to Lexington this morning in the interest of the proposed Street Railway Company. On their return, the organization will be compelled, and active operations for the construction of the road will be commenced. Our citizens may expect to see a force of men at work on this enterprise with the next ten days.

THOS. T. EMMONS, of East Maysville, and C. P. Dieterich will have an examination before the Mayor this afternoon on the charge of shooting within the city limits. Dietrich claims that while passing Second street, near Union street in East Maysville, last night about nine o'clock, he was assaulted by Emmons and that in his defense he fired his weapon.

Emmons says that he was standing near his store adjacent to Union street, when he saw three persons coming down the turnpike. When they came near one of them said "you go that way and I'll go this." He walked across the street to see what was going on, and came upon a man in a crouching position, and stooping down to see what was, the man fired at him. He immediately knocked the man down, and as he rose and run away the man put his hand behind him and shot again as he ran.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

An adjourned meeting of the council was held Thursday evening with President Pearce in the chair and Messrs. Martin and Hall absent.

The Assessor's bond was presented and approved.

The Board of Health was directed to have cleaned the gutter on Second street, below Short.

Auctioneer's license was granted to J. J. McCarthy.

Building permits were granted to F. Devine and Andrew Miller.

The following bills were presented and allowed:

G. W. Oldham, advertising $5 75
Chunn & Mills, work 2 00

The marshal was directed to have put up on the bridge notices forbidding fast driving.

The Special Committee to examine buildings alleged to be unsafe, reported the houses of Mrs. Eliza Johnson and Mrs. Dobyms unsafe, and notice was ordered to be given them to repair the buildings in the next sixty days.

An amendment was adopted to the ordinance concerning coal oil and petroleum license, which requires that a certificate should be obtained from the Fire Committee each year.

A contract in substance as follows with the projectors of the street railway was presented by the Committee on Laws and Ordinances and was approved by the board:

The line to be three miles in length, from the West End to a point in Chester, and the franchise granted for fifty years for a single track horse railway, on Front, Second and Third and streets lying between these thoroughfares as the company may elect. The company is to make all necessary culverts and the city to keep them in order after they are made. The company is to keep the part of the street occupied by the railway in good repair at its own expense. The cars shall be run at intervals of twenty minutes, and the fare to be five cents to any part of the city. The city reserves the right to pass any ordinances that may be considered proper concerning the railway.

PERSONALS.

Points About People Here and Elsewhere.

Mrs. Hannah Evans was buried at Flemingsburg on the 6th inst.

Mrs. Julia Stewart, of Chicago, is visiting her mother, Mrs. E. Hutchins.

Miss Mattie E. Faulkner, of Flemingsburg, had her clothing catch from a grate and was badly injured.

Mrs. Lydia Campbell, wife of Mr. John B. Campbell, of Aberdeen, is reported to be dying to-day. She has been ill for several weeks past.

The following is from the Washington Republican:

One of the kindest, most chivalric, and progressive representatives of the Southern States in attendance upon the educational meetings just adjourned was Dr. J. Desha Pickett, State Superintendent of public schools in Kentucky. An officer of the Confederate army, he has gracefully accepted the results of the war, and is among the increasing number of leading Southern men who are using voice and pen to cement the bonds of the national union.

We are informed that the Grangers of this county, who sold to Miss Lulu Shackleford the building at the corner of Wall and Second streets, which was wrecked by the flood, will probably restore to her a part of the purchase money. We are authorized by Mr. Robert Bedford to say that he will take pleasure in restoring a liberal per cent. of his interest in the property. As the persons who sold this building are neither legally nor morally responsible for Miss Shackleford's loss the act is one of disinterested generosity. Such deeds, are not of frequent occurrence.

Those Kitchen Belles! Those Kitchen Belles! How many a romance their memory tells Of youth and love and that sweet hour, When last we met within their bower.

Those joyous hours are passing away And many a heart that now is gay, Will sadly pine in bachelor cells When some one "rings those Kitchen Belles."

And so it will be when we are gone, The Fern Leaf boys will still hang on, And other bards shall walk these dells, And sing your praise, sweet Kitchen Belles.

IN MEMORY.

Miss Lucy Dobyms, daughter of Frank and Elizabeth Dobyms, died at her home in Mason county, September 26, 1882. She was born October 12, 1865. Death is ever a sad event, but one in the case of buoyant spirits and a seeming prospect of a long and happy life it is doubly so. Lucy possessed traits of disposition and character that win her many, many friends, who fondly cherish her memory. The community was shrouded in gloom when the fact of her departure was made known. Just before the end came she called her father to her and requested him to kiss her. He did so. She asked him to kiss her again, telling him that it was getting dark and that she could not see him. Her last words were to her mother, "Come let us go home." We trust that the freed spirit was waited to the home of the blessed on high. A few months before her death the writer of these lines, had a long conversation with her on religious topics and the frankness and candor there exhibited and the interest manifested respecting her soul's eternal welfare, indicated that her last words were prophetic of a bliss to be realized beyond the dark valley. A FRIEND.

USEFUL AND SUGGESTIVE.

—A grilliron should always be heated before putting meat on it to broil.

—There are many farmers who believe that a pig farrowed in April and slaughtered about Christmas will more than return his cost, and that there is no profit in keeping a hog until it is eighteen months old.

—In top-dressing lawns, avoid using coarse, lumpy stable manure. Many front yards, even in cities, are disfigured in this way. Use only fine manure, or compost, or better still, some approved artificial fertilizer. —N. Y. Examiner.

—Buckwheat Short-cake: A pint of sour milk, a teaspoonful of soda and a little salt. Stir in enough buckwheat flour to make a stiff batter and bake in thin sheets. A spoonful of butter may be rubbed through the batter. By many this is liked better than pancakes. Nice eaten with honey or molasses. —Rural New Yorker.

—To make an excellent turkey hash pick the meat off the bones, and have it in quite small pieces, and a dressing and small pieces of light biscuit, and put in a dripping-pan; pour over it a little gravy, and add water enough to thoroughly moisten, and place it in a hot oven for twenty minutes. —Chicago News.

—Bitter milk is a matter of frequent occurrence every fall and winter, or soon after the cows are off from grazing. It is caused first by bitter herbs in the hay—such as Mayweed, John-wort, etc., and also by the use of too much over-ripe food, such as straw, corn stover, or late-cut hay. It never occurs when cows are fed on good food, and are thriving, or even holding their own and are kept comfortably warm. —N. Y. Examiner.

—F. D. Curtis says American farmers do not realize the possibilities of turnips, and says they make a less and promote growth to a much greater extent than chemists' tables would teach us. They come in excellently as a supplementary crop, and that a patch of turnips to turn into in October, when stock is frequently allowed to roam over the fields and pick up a scanty substance, would be a boon to both farmer and animals.

Economy on the Farm.

On the farm, and in all the various details of rural and domestic life, prudence and a just economy of time and means are incumbent in an eminent degree. The earth itself is composed of atoms, and the most gigantic fortunes consist of aggregated items, insignificant in themselves, individually considered, but majestic when contemplated in unity and as a whole. In the management of a farm, all needless expenditure should be systematically avoided, and the income made to exceed the outlay as far as possible. Pecuniary embarrassment should always be regarded as a contingency of evil boding, and if contended against with energy and persevering fortitude, it must soon be overcome. Debt, with but little hope of its removal, is a millstone dragging us down and crushing the life blood out of us. Be careful, therefore, in incurring any pecuniary responsibility which does not present a clear deliverance with the advantages which a wise use of it ought always to insure.

A farmer who purchases a good farm and can pay down one third of the price, give a mortgage for the other two-thirds, and possesses the heart and resolution to work it faithfully and well, enters upon the true path to success. He will labor with the encouraging knowledge that each day's exertions will lessen his indebtedness and bring him nearer to the goal when he shall be disenthralled and becomes a freeholder in its most cheering sense. But without due economy in every department, in the dwelling as well as in the barns and in the fields, this gratifying achievement may not be reached until late in life, or may be indefinitely postponed. A prudent oversight, therefore, over all the operations of a farm, in order that every thing may be done that ought to be done and nothing be wasted, will exert a powerful influence in placing a family on the high road to an early independence. —Germanstown Telegraph.

Kendall's Spavin Cure.

The Most Successful Remedy ever discovered, as it is certain its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER,

Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District, ST. ALBANS, VT., Jan., 20, 1880.
DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found. Respectfully yours, P. N. GRANGER.

Perseverance Will Tell.

STROUGHTON, MASS., March 16, 1880.
B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me it will be very great.
Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach a every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, any lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Send address for illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to our knowledge, for beast as well as man.

Price $1. per bottle, or six bottles for $5. ALL DRUGGISTS have it or can get it for you or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors. DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vermont. 127d.
